

Supplement to the TÜV SÜD Academy General examination regulations.

Special conditions regarding COVID-19: Special rules concerning the TÜV SÜD Academy General examination regulations and the Supplements to the TÜV SÜD Academy General examination regulations for all online examinations.

1. Scope of applicability

For all TÜV SÜD Academy online examinations, the following special conditions are applicable regarding COVID-19: Special rules concerning the TÜV SÜD Academy General examination regulations and the Supplements to the TÜV SÜD Academy General examination regulations for all online examinations.

2. Examination format and marking

All points stated in the Supplements to the TÜV SÜD Academy General examination regulations remain valid, with the exception of point: Permitted examination aids. All examinations are henceforth open-book and the examination duration will be reduced where applicable in accordance with the introductory overview before the start of the online examination.

3. Examination registration and ID check

All points as mentioned in the TÜV SÜD Academy General examination regulations remain valid, with the exception of point (4) regarding registration for examinations and ID checks. At the beginning of the online examination, participants must confirm that their personal examination result has not been influenced by assistance from external third parties.

Candidates will usually be able to register for their examination at the same time as they register for the seminar. The candidate themselves or an authorised third party must register for the examination. The candidate or the third party authorised to register on behalf of the candidate must ensure that they provide the correct personal data regarding the candidate in order to allow the candidate to be positively identified. For the purpose of verifying the candidate's identity, TÜV SÜD Akademie is entitled to inspect an official identification document (e.g. valid passport, ID card or driving licence).

4. Participation in examinations

All points stated in the TÜV SÜD Academy General examination regulations remain valid. In addition to point (9.3) regarding the implementation and assessment of examinations, participants must confirm that they have been informed of the basic requirements and that they feel in a position to participate in the examination in accordance with the introductory overview before the start of the online examination.
