To our Most Valuable Customers:

INFORMATION ABOUT TRANSITION FOR EnMS FROM ISO 50003:2014 TO ISO 50003:2021 AS PER IAF MD 24:2021.

This letter is a part of our ongoing commitment to keep you informed of changes that could affect your Energy Management System (ENMS) certification. These changes will affect you if you currently have or are working towards EnMS certification from TÜV SÜD.

As per the requirements of IAF MD 24:2021 and policy of NABCB accreditation body, we must ensure that all certification body activities are upgraded to new requirements of ISO 50003:2021 within the mandatory transition period of 2.5 years (From the date of Release of ISO 50003:2021). This demands to have the transition plan of certification body related to existing certificates and upgrade to new applicable standards for each certificate issued.

We kindly request you to note the below –

- Existing certified clients: the existing contracts can be continued in old standard if it is valid up-to or before 2023-11-30. Any contract / certificate valid beyond this period shall be conducted as per new ISO 50003:2021 standard during their Surveillance audits.
- TÜV SÜD shall apply the changes to certified clients as per new standard ISO 50003:2021 during the recertification, or a Special audit or Site / Scope Expansion.
- New clients: All audits for new clients shall only be carried out as per the new Standard ISO 50003:2021 from 2022-12-01

Changes in ISO 50003:2021 includes:

- Additional requirements for auditor competence
- Changes in number of SEUs / Annual Energy Consumption / No of Energy Types - for Energy Complexity Calculation Changes which may affect the man-day calculation basis and complexity factors (may lead to increased audit time from previous version)
- For further changes refer IAF MD 24-2021, Issue 01, Dt. 08th December 2021 from IAF website
- As audit time increases it may also impact the cost of certification

Thank you for your attention and supporting in Transition.

We hereby request you to get in touch with our local branch and understand the process in detail.
